

Dear participant,

EthCC is an event for the community, by the community.

EthCC's sole purpose is to help the community grow, exchange and meet. EthCC staff is free to ask any person to leave if his/her attitude should be anything else than benevolent. We will not accept any harassing attitude, any discrimination against a person or a group of people.

We foster a responsible and supportive environment where people treat each other respectfully regardless of origin, education, religion, beliefs, physical ability, gender or sexual identity. If these values are disregarded, we will take action.

Do not aggressively shill. If you are promoting a scam, we will act on it.

EthCC is organised in Paris, at the Maison de la Mutualité. We expect all participants to comply with the local laws and respect the historical building in which the conferences will take place.

If you witness a participant who's attitude should have a negative impact on others' ability to enjoy EthCC, please let a member of staff know (identified by staff cap). They will bring you to see a responsible EthCC staff who will take your report in a private space. We will investigate and act accordingly in order to ensure that our values are upheld.

We value your attendance and well being, do not hesitate to contact the staff that will gladly help you keep you safe and make your stay in Paris unique.

Cheers from Paris,

EthCC team
